

All-U Handball Tourney Enters Fourth Round

NOV 6

Voorhees Defeats Koskoff in Grueling Quarter-Final Match

Featuring a grueling contest in which Bill Voorhees defeated Stan Koskoff 21-15, 20-21, 21-9, the all-university handball tournament moved into the quarter-final round of play last Friday in the men's gym.

Voorhees, a veteran of numerous tournaments, played consistent ball, relying on his power and his service to defeat the less-experienced Koskoff who had difficulty in getting his shots to work.

PEREL WINS

Al Perel, No. 1 man on the handball team who was seeded third, scored the most overwhelming victory ever recorded in an all-university tournament when he won from Graham Sheldon 21-0, 21-0. Perel played flawlessly throughout the two games making most of his points on his tricky serve. By scoring this lopsided win, Perel stamped himself as the man to beat in the tourney. Bill Voorhees, who meets Perel in the semi-final round next week, was impressed with the scores. He said, "Gosh, that sounds impossible."

Bob Pofcher, ex-Bruin handball star, joined Perel in the quarter-final round when he defeated Wes Stone 21-17, 21-3. Pofcher had difficulty in winning from Stone in the first game but he hit his stride in the second game and won easily.

SNOW TO PLAY BROWN

The quarter-final round will be completed today when Jack Snow, seeded No. 2, battles with Al Brown. The match was scheduled for Friday but it was postponed until today by mutual agreement. Snow, runner-up in last year's tournament, will be getting his first real test of the year when he tangles with Brown, a veteran of many years.

The semi-final round of play will get underway tomorrow night at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. when Dick Steckel meets Ronnie Lubin in the men's gym. Steckel, defending champion, will be matched against the handballer who is credited with the biggest upset win of the tourney. Last week Lubin defeated Hal Hilton, handball team member, in a three-game match.

NICHOLAS PLAYS

In the other game of the round, Fred Nicholas, seeded fourth will play Al Mahaffey, another handball team member, at 8:30.

Nicholas advanced to the semi-final round with a hard-fought victory over basketballer Ralph Vaughn last week. He played a slow game and Vaughn had the ex L.A. city high schools champ in trouble numerous times. Mahaffey, however, easily defeated T. M. Leovy in a convincing manner.
